

Vision 2025 Public Comments

August 16, 2007

- Ashland Bottoms is prime farm land including many acres of privately owned family farms with a long tradition of managing & preserving a rural setting. This is prime area for preservation of both quality and culture of the area. We would strongly disagree with any efforts made in movement of city development into this or similar farming communities.